

Parryware's In-Slim collection

Parryware launches a range of exceptionally super slim wash basins – In-Slim.

The washbasin architecture fulfills the prerequisites of space-saving trend and gives a perfect mix to the surface treatment and creates patterns with a fine definition. The surface pattern is partly decorative and partly functional, as they prevent objects from slipping and leaving stains. In-Slim's unique aesthetic allows a very tight radii of 4-5 mm which has wafer-thin walls, economizes on space, lightweight and even more sustainable, as compared to traditional basins that makes more space for contemporary bathroom. The ease of maintenance and a sleek-looking product enhances the sense of space and gives a visual lightness.

As the trend is evolving further for basins to be even slimmer, the range offers two circular and two square shape table top forms with varied size therefore providing a broad choice to the washing area solutions.
