

No water wastage

» Parryware recently launched its sustainable range of waterless urinals, Astute Waterless Urinal. The touch-free urinal collection is designed to perfection in its category which gives an eco-friendly twist to your bathrooms by using negligible amount of water. Astute waterless urinal comes in a complete set including the blue seal and a unique eco-trap. Use of the special blue seal liquid in the outlet trap (which is lighter than water) prevents any bad odours being released from the waste-line, thus making it a hygienic product. For maintenance, the urinal needs to be wiped down just once on a daily basis.

This range fulfills the pre-requisites of a sustainable sanitaryware by saving tremendous amount of water and maintaining supreme hygiene. It comes with a concealed outlet retaining the aesthetic value, making it a great fit for modern-day sustainable and eco-friendly necessities.
